The Enagic Endless Summer

Summer on my home island of Okinawa always reminds me of Shima Uta, or the Music of the Islands. Growing up as a young boy, times were indeed tough, but it was the music of my people that always kept a positive spirit in my life. When the paranku chorus of drummers, dancers and singers would parade through our small villages, it was a time to remember that summer was for rejoicing.

That's exactly the spirit of an endless summer in Enagic. When the hardships of life weigh on you and you feel burdened by worry, loss or angst, our message of Life Transformation through recognizing True Health sets you free. I always believed in the potential of a man to determine his future and within Enagic, I've seen people completely overturn bad circumstances.

Our vision is different. We bond together as Enagic ambassadors and reveal a universal truth that emancipates people around the globe. We are a multiracial, one-minded clan of people dedicated to spreading the Message of Compassion one family at a time. To enact this, we need YOUR passion. We need YOUR empathy for your common neighbor. And we need YOUR desire for positive, collaborative change in the world.

Summers indeed can be endless. We can grasp the warm sunshine from the sky, clutch it close and enlighten the lives of people around the globe. We're truly capable of doing this as a combined force of like-minded, compassionate people. And YOU'RE part of that.

So spread the light of Enagic wherever you go. Deliver hope to those who are forlorn. Put a smile on the faces of the dejected. Lend a hand to the fallen. And provide an endless summer of lasting freedom for those encumbered.

Let's lead this world together toward peace and True Health,

May the music of Enagic be sung in your heart,

Hironari Ohshiro

Distributor Profile

Tony Meechai, 6A

Bangkok, Thailand

People from all walks of life are drawn to the incredible potential of the Enagic business and Tony Meechai is an excellent example that anyone can succeed in this business.

Unlike others with years of sales experience, Tony came to Enagic with a very unique skill set, he is a successful professional golfer. With more than 20 years of experience in golf Tony is widely recognized as the leading golf trainer in Asia.

Following a highly successful junior career, Tony attended the prestigious PGA Golf Management Program at New Mexico State University, after which he started his professional golf career at Cog Hill Golf Club in Chicago. In 1998, he relocated to Springfield Royal Country Club in Hua Hin, Thailand, where he set up and ran the hugely successful Heartland Golf Schools, which grew to over 20 locations and had over 400 teaching pros spreading the good news of golf.

"I first came into contact with Enagic at Lotus Valley Golf Resort. My sponsors, Sam Ho and Khun Ying, had set up a demonstration booth at a prestigious golf tournament that day. The golf course is in Chachoengsao, Thailand, about 1 hour from downtown Bangkok. I was intrigued because it was an unknown product that many athletes and celebrities were using in the US. Many top athletes and celebrities used it, but it was strange that I never heard about the Kangen Water machines at all. I officially started in October 2015, because Enagic launched the inaugural Enagic Junior Championship qualifying project and Thailand was the first event to host a qualifier."

But it was more than just the booth that intrigued Tony and captivated his interest. "After the experience I had with Higas-san in Thailand when we conducted the qualifier and then, when I met Mr. Ohshiro in Okinawa at the finals, I knew this company was very special! When we brought the qualifiers to Okinawa for the first time, Mr. Ohshiro, his wife, the executives and all of the Enagic staff were so inviting, friendly and nice. The Enagic Golf Academy students interacted with the Thai junior golfers and it was amazing to see the friendship and bonding taking place. I quickly became aware of the tremendous support and dedication Mr. Ohshiro had with junior golf development and, most importantly, I learned more about the company products and services! I decided that I wanted to use my extensive golf experience and network to spread True Health throughout Southeast Asia."

Tony is now a 6A and he shared his thoughts about receiving help from successful distributors and what he considers the best strategy for success in the business. "I truly understand that the Kangen Water machines are very new in the market and that most of my people in my network have never heard of it. I've met some very successful leaders including Gary Gan, a person that I truly respect. Gary Gan is much younger than I am, a loving father of 4, a great husband and a man from whom I've learned so much. Also, I've met a lot of people who are over the age of 85 and still very healthy and active! This is the most important thing that I share with my group. The first thing is to get a machine and experience Kangen Water! Have an authentic experience so that you can share with people how much you like it! My recommendation to anyone in my group that wants to pursue the business is to make sure they are able to share their authentic experience and simply just tell your story!"

We asked Tony to end his interview with his thoughts about his future with Enagic. "I've been in the spotlight for many years teaching and coaching golf and I felt moving forward I wanted to change everything and begin again. The mission is still the same to develop and promote golf, but now with Enagic, it is time to add the message for everyone to experience True Health! Mr. Ohshiro is so right about True Health and it's important to all human beings. It doesn't matter what color or race or career you have. A golfer needs True Health just like everyone else! Without health you have NOTHING! So, my target is to double the amount of people I can reach and share the message of True Health!"

Okinawa, HQ

Grand Reopening at the Enagic Naha Headquarters

Okinawa is the birthplace of Enagic, so it makes sense that this is where the company's official headquarters would be located. But Enagic has come a long way from its humble beginnings over forty years ago and the company "HQ" has transformed from quaint small offices to entire buildings! Because of the strong business presence, Enagic's Okinawan distributors have access to numerous Kangen business events. There are actually three different offices which host a variety of events. One office is in the south of the island, in the capital, Naha City, the second is in Urasoe City, in the southwest, and the third is situated in the biggest city of the north, Nago.

The Naha office recently moved and celebrated a Grand Reopening at the new Enagic Naha headquarters which is called "Plaza Naha". It is located on the first floor of the Enagic International headquarter building.

Mr. and Mrs. Ohshiro attended the grand opening ceremony and shared happiness and ideas for a prosperous future with all the attendees of the event.

"Naha is the capital of Okinawa, where more than 300,000 people live. This is our chance to further develop the Kangen Water business and to promote True Health to the wonderful people of Naha," said Mr. Ohshiro, using some words of the local dialect, Uchinaguchi.

Following Mr. Ohshiro's speech, Hiroshi Kubo, the Plaza Naha manager, introduced himself and announced that the new office would host daily seminars for people wanting to learn more about Kangen Water and the Enagic business.

"Wishing you great success, let's toast of Ipponjime", said the manager. The Ipponjime is a Japanese style toast, which features a single clap, signifying that people are eager to boost business. In addition to Mr. Kubo, several distributors spoke briefly to the attendees and then everyone enjoyed delicious hors d'oeuvres and plenty of Kangen Water.

The Plaza Naha is a place for all Enagic distributors; it hosts seminars, as well as sells filters and welcomes new distributors from all Okinawa and the rest of the world.

Bangkok, Thailand

Most distributors are familiar with the Kangen Water seminar, but recently the traditional seminar was changed to be an interactive event which was enjoyed by the attendees. Malaysian 6A distributor, Connie Chew, gave a cooking seminar she calls “Delicious Cooking with Kangen Water” at the Bangkok’s Enagic Thailand office.

Connie, known as a “Celebrity Chef” knows her way around the kitchen and has won remarkable records as a winner of numerous Asian cooking contests.

The Kangen Cooking event drew a nice crowd and Connie introduced a tropical fruit salad as the day’s menu. She used Strong Kangen Water and Strong Acidic Water to clean all the exotic tropical fruits and herbs for the demonstration.

Following the rhythmical steps of Connie’s cooking performance, she showed the key point of the cooking lesson: salad dressing.

The chef put Strong Kangen Water into a bowl containing extra virgin olive oil in the bottom to emulsify, adding mango puree, palm sugar, sea salt and ground black pepper. She stirred the sauce until it becomes starchy and spooned the fresh and delicious dressing over the multicolor tropical fruits. “It’s a perfect dessert to cool off on this hot summer day!”

But Connie is not only an amazing chef, she is also an expert of beauty. In addition to her cooking seminar, she has also developed a beauty seminar, which she calls “Concept of Beauty Secrets to Natural Facelift”. Another seminar was organized by Enagic Thailand and Connie, once again, was the main speaker. Together with Dr. Thatnat Sangwamphet, who is a Thai traditional and Ayurvedic medicine specialist and acupuncturist, the two lectured about internal and external beauty. Regarding the internal beauty, Connie recommended drinking sufficient Kangen Water for detoxification and hydration to purify the body to the attendees.

On the exterior beauty, she advised to take a shower with Anespa to the skin looking young and smooth. The cooking expert also demonstrated how to remove a make-up. She suggested to apply pure coconut oil on facial skin and to clean with Strong Kangen Water, pH11.5. This natural-friendly face cleansing method is very efficient and nutritive. She explained to give facelift massage with Beauty Water after removing the make-up to revitalize the cells of the skin.

She showed various ways to utilize the different waters made by the LeveLuk devices during her two lectures, which was full of hints of how to obtain both delicious dishes and real beauty in our daily life.

India

The Enagic India office has started to create some very successful distributors and the India market is starting to grow very quickly. Kaz, the India office manager, conducts a Kangen Water seminar every afternoon, Monday thru Friday, in the Enagic India Bangalore's office. On the weekends he travels to different cities to do the seminar hosted by distributors. These are very popular events and are completely organized and funded by the distributors.

The seminars are open to anyone who is interested in Kangen Water or the Enagic independent distributor business. The seminars attract around 20 - 30 people every lecture and really help new distributors, specially 1A and 5A, to understand the properties of Kangen Water and the Enagic business.

The distributor who is the main promoter of the seminars is Palangappa KM (Vishoo), who earned the rank of 6A faster than anyone else in Bangalore. In order to maximize the potential of these powerful presentations, he makes sure to bring as many new people as possible to every seminar.

In addition to the seminars, there are also distributor workshops, where the focus is on business building and development. "Do not talk until you really understand everything, until that, please trust me with a good prospect. I will give you the best seminar in India", told energetically to the participants who attended to learn top secrets to sell a lot of machines. Kaz, who has had an impressive career in sales, shares techniques and strategies he has learned over the years which help distributors make more sales. His motto is have passion, give compassion.

India has been among the world's fastest growing economies. Many global corporations regard India as one of the key markets from where future growth is to emerge. Enagic recognized that potential and the India distributors are now turning potential into results.

Enagic India opened in Bangalore, the third most populous city in the country, in 2016. Since then the number of Indian distributors has been steadily growing. Keep your eyes on the India market, as it holds great potential for the country of India, as well as countries with strong Indian presence and established Indian communities.

New Zealand

Although there is not an official Enagic branch office in New Zealand, there are definitely a lot of active distributors in this beautiful part of the world. Recently, several members of the Enagic Australia branch were invited to visit a group of distributors in the lovely region of Whakatane, New Zealand.

It is one thing to be part of the corporate staff and experience the growing popularity of Enagic and Kangen Water from inside an office, but another entirely to see it in person. Our branch manager Matsuoka-san, and several other members of staff, had the pleasure of experiencing a wonderful event hosted in Whakatane, New Zealand, by successful 6A2 Kelly Kingi, and co-hosted by 6A Taylor Ulufonua and rising new talent, Nicky Edwards.

This is the second year in a row we have visited this region and what an incredible turnout and improvement it was over last year! Nearly 100 people attended this year's event and everyone there was ready to learn about and celebrate Enagic and Kangen Water.

The event started in the morning with a great water demonstration, followed by a presentation by our technician, Gareth, who provided some handy tips about how people can get the most out of their Kangen Water machine.

In the afternoon, Sales team supervisor, Watari, provided some key information about Enagic's famous patented compensation plan and made sure everyone had heard about the latest updates from the company.

During the entire event everyone enjoyed drinking delicious Kangen Water from the machine displayed at the event, and also from the attractive "Kangen-fied" water bottles provided by the host.

And finally, one of the most important things that came from the event (smashing last year's record) was the 100 machines that our technicians worked hard to deep clean over the course of the weekend! The event energized and excited the entire crowd and 100 machines received a deep cleaning, which will provide the best possible Kangen Water to the owners.

Thank you to Kelly and her team for hosting such a wonderful event, and to all that attended. We hope to see you, and many more new people, again next year!

Brazil

One of Enagic's rising stars is distributor Kazuo Sakita Junior. He recently held Kangen seminars in two different cities in the state of Mato Grosso in his home country, Brazil. Kazuo, who currently lives in Europe, is involved in a wide range of Enagic business activities on two different continents; Europe and South America.

Kazuo believes that Mato Grosso holds great potential for Enagic and Kangen Water, due to its location, which is in the heart of the country.

He had the first seminar in Sinop City, located in the northern part of the state. Attendees enjoyed his Kangen Water demonstration, where they learned about the characteristics and effects of five different kinds of water.

Following Sinop City, Kazuo visited the state's capital, Campo Grande, where he put on another seminar and a distributor workshop. About 20 distributors attended his workshop and gained a deeper knowledge of Kangen Water and different strategies to maximize the Enagic business.

Brazil is the fifth-largest country in the world in both of size and population, which is almost 200 million people. It has always been considered a country rich in water resources, as it contains roughly 12% of the world's fresh surface water. As such, many companies from all around the world are engaged in different aspects of the water business there. And now, thanks to Kazuo, Enagic has been added to the list.

ENAGIC® 8 PROSPERITY ASSOCIATION

The Popa's In Paradise

The Enagic 8 Prosperity Association was pleased to welcome one leading European distributors, 6A3-4 Sebastian Popa. He and his wife, Roxanna, who are from Romania, enjoyed their private trip to Okinawa; it is Sebastian's sixth trip, but it was his wife's first.

Sebastian is an E8PA Black Card holder and thanks to his prestigious status he is able to visit Sedake, the birthplace of the company and Mr. Ohshiro's home village, and enjoy all of the amenities offered at the E8PA.

On the first day, the couple paid a courtesy call to Mr. and Mrs. Ohshiro in the headquarters office in Naha City. On the way to the north of the island, Mr. and Mrs.

Popa stopped by the Enagic Aroma Hot Spring and the Enagic Bowling Alley. Mr. Yamaguchi, President of Enagic Okinawa, welcomed them at the bowling alley. The Romanian couple played in a group of four, including Mr. Yamaguchi and Mr. Nagaoka, the E8PA manager. It was a fun filled afternoon, and, try as they might, the men were unable to overcome the bowling skill of Roxanna, as she walked away with the highest score of the day. They all celebrated her victory and everyone was very happy for her.

After the exciting game, they went to the E8PA Resort in Sedake. Although this trip was his sixth visit to Okinawa, Sebastian was deeply impressed with the historic root of Enagic.

"The village of Sedake shows and teaches us that even a very small place could lead to great and successful achievements", said the top Romanian distributor.

During their stay in the village, the couple enjoyed a round of golf with Mr. Ohshiro and his son. The last day, they were invited to a renewal party at the house where Mr. Ohshiro was born. It was being repaired due to aging and damage by termites. It had been under construction for several months and was completed in mid-August. Their vacation was perfectly timed to coincide with the celebration, which was a big surprise for them.

"My visit to the home village of Mr. Ohshiro provided some insight for me about upcoming projects", mentioned Sebastian. His time in Sedake filled him with energy and recharged his spirit. While they did some shopping and bought some items to take home with them, their biggest souvenir was inspiration for their future successes.

Tech Talk

11.5 pH Strong Kangen Water

& 2.5 pH Strong Acidic Water

Two waters that make a BIG difference!

In addition to manufacturing the highest quality products in our industry, Enagic is one of the only companies who offer these types of devices with the ability to produce 11.5 pH & 2.5 pH water. To someone unfamiliar with ionization technology having the ability to make these waters may not seem like a big deal, but to those who understand the technology, and the benefits these waters can create, they know it is a huge deal!

These two waters have very special properties and are very unique. The 2.5 pH water produced by an Enagic device is referred to as “Strong Acidic Water” and comes out of the bottom hose during production. At the same time, the 11.5 pH water, this is referred to as “Strong Kangen Water”, exits the top hose of the device.

These waters require an added “electrolysis enhancer fluid”, which is really nothing more than a saline solution, to be produced. The enhancer fluid consists of mostly purified water, a small amount of sodium chloride, also known as “table salt”, and a small amount of sodium hypochlorite, which is the fancy way to say the “chlorine” in tap water.

During the production of just these two waters, a small amount of the enhancer fluid is injected into the electrolysis chamber, where it combines with the source water and electricity. The 2.5 pH Strong Acidic Water has disinfecting properties and can be used to sanitize kitchen utensils, cutting boards and to clean and disinfect in and around the entire kitchen. The strong acidic water utilizes the chlorine ions in the saline solution to create Hypochlorous Acid Water. Without the chlorine in the water it would not be able to kill bacteria. The Japanese Electrolyzed Water Association defines strong acidic water to be: pH below 2.7, ORP of +1100 and 20-60ppm of available chlorine. This simply means that the pH level is less than 2.7; that the positive oxidation reduction potential is at 1100 or higher; and that there is a presence of between 20 – 60 parts per million of chlorine. The Enagic devices are some of the only ones in the market that can make 2.5 & 11.5 pH waters.

The Strong Kangen Water is also being produced at the same time the strong acidic water is being made. The 11.5 pH water is excellent for cleaning and degreasing. The Strong Kangen uses the sodium of the saline solution to create a weak sodium hydroxide solution. Sodium hydroxide is a critical ingredient in soaps. Without this ingredient the water would not be able to emulsify oils into water when cleaning.

These waters are unique and special. Between the two of them they can be used for safe, non-toxic cleaning and degreasing around the entire house. These waters are effective enough that they can replace the traditional chemical based cleaners, which will save money and reduce risk.

Tip:

Let your Strong Kangen sit for 3 days in a dark container prior to using. This allows calcium hardness minerals to precipitate out of solution. This will increase the ability of the Strong Kangen water to clean.

The Importance of

Distributor Training

Enagic is fortunate to have independent distributors with extensive experience in direct sales and the network industry. This experience has become a valuable resource, as these people have taken it upon themselves to share their knowledge with their fellow distributors. This article was created from input of many of these excellent trainers.

Enagic is fortunate to have independent distributors with extensive experience in direct sales and the network industry. This experience has become a valuable resource, as these people have taken it upon themselves to share their knowledge with their fellow distributors. This article was created from input of many of these excellent trainers.

Most people in direct sales and the network industry would agree that distributor training is extremely important, but maybe not for the most obvious reasons. Of course, training is important so that new distributors have the opportunity to learn about the main components of Enagic: the company, the mission, the culture of the business, the products, the policies & procedures of the company, the industry and the Enagic business.

Each of these is extremely important and should be learned by every new distributor. Understanding these topics will help a distributor be more confident as they talk to others. It also allows them to provide accurate, truthful information regarding Enagic. It will also ensure that they are abiding by the rules that govern our industry and the rules of the company, making sure that they do not jeopardize the business by doing something that they should not do. These are just a few of the reasons having at least a basic understanding of the overall project is extremely important.

But there is another aspect of training which is often overlooked, engagement. Distributor training is an excellent way to keep a distributor "engaged", which, in this case, also means involved. Huge corporations spend millions of dollars every year trying to figure out how to keep their employees engaged, because they know that keeping a person engaged will ultimately lead to more productivity and efficiency.

Engagement through training is a very effective way to develop a long lasting and productive distributor. Some of the most successful distributors in Enagic owe a lot of their success to the fact that they were so engaged that Enagic became their main priority, which led to them becoming an even stronger distributor. The more training a person receives, the more they understand the "big picture" of Enagic. This understanding not only provides them with information, it also increases their "connection" to Enagic and it's mission.

When a distributor first starts, the only real connection they have to Enagic is their machine. While they may be excited about the water and the Enagic business, the fact is, in the beginning, their connection with Enagic is limited, which is why training is so important. Every topic a new distributor hears, every new strategy they learn, every use of the water they discover, every bit of information they are taught brings them closer and closer to having a true understanding of Mr. Ohshiro's concept of True Health. Once a person truly understands and embraces this concept, they are much more likely to become a long-term distributor and make Enagic their priority.

In order to help ensure that this happens, distributors are encouraged to seek out as much training as possible. And this is not only for new distributors. Seasoned distributors are also encouraged to continue to expand their knowledge through training. Even the most experienced distributors can learn new things which can benefit them. Just because you know something today, doesn't mean you can't learn something new tomorrow!

It is important to note that finding training opportunities may not always be easy for every distributor. If you are in an area that is still developing a distributor presence, there may not be any nearby training, at least not yet. If that is the case, the distributor must take the initiative to look for training opportunities. Not being trained because there is nothing "close to you" is not a reason...it is an excuse. Those who make training a priority will always find a way to make it happen.

Remember, training comes in many forms and is not just when an event is being held in a hotel. Conference calls, webinars, printed information, Internet articles, videos, audio recordings and, of course, live events at places like Enagic offices and hotels, are all forms of training. There are a lot of training options for distributors, but sometimes they have to seek them out. And sometimes there will be a cost to receive training. There may be travel expenses, lodging and even a cost for the training itself. It is up to each distributor to determine how much they are willing to invest in their own success, but be assured that if you treat the costs associated with training as an investment, and not just an expense, it will most likely pay off for you in the future.

Becoming an expert in every aspect of Enagic, or an expert in the direct sales industry, is not necessary to become successful, however the ongoing pursuit of training and information is essential if a distributor is serious about a long-term, successful career with Enagic.

Enagic would like to extend our appreciation and thanks to the following distributors for their contributions: Jayvee Pacifico, Romi Verdera, Cynthia Briganti, Eli Dafesh, Tamia Williams, Daniel Dimacale, Bob Gridelli, Michelle Raley, Gerald KostECKa, Fred Brown, Willy Fowlkes and Jim Gilliland.

Stories of Success

Enagic...A Summer to Remember

In June 2013, Ohshiro was planning something extravagant. He would invite the world's top performing distributors to the village of his birth, Setake. But would anyone really come all the way to a tiny village in Okinawa? His closest staff were worried. From France, for example, a distributor would have to fly from Paris to Narita Airport in Tokyo, then onwards to Naha International Airport, then stay in a hotel in Naha or its surroundings, before getting on a bus for several hours to get to Setake. The logistics of travel alone would involve considerable time and distance. And money, of course. But Ohshiro was insistent.

June 2013. One hot summer day followed another in Okinawa. The summer heat of Okinawa is often described as being similar to having a steam bath. You have to have several handkerchiefs in your pocket if you want to get through the day. It's so hot that you can even break into a sweat just sitting down. The Global Convention was held in the old gym hall of the building that used to house Ohshiro's elementary school. The venue had no air conditioning, so a mobile air conditioning unit was temporarily installed. The gym hall was jam packed with 800 of the top distributors from Japan and the rest of the world and the air was filled with their energy—and their sweat.

One by one, in that hot, sweaty hall, the attendees introduced their own success stories: smiling, they talked about their first encounter with Kangen Water, how it had benefited their health and their personal finances, how it had brought them success. At the end of their speeches, Ohshiro gave a key note speech: "Have Goals". The convention was followed by a dinner, where the attendees enjoying delicious Okinawa food, all the while wiping the sweat from their brows. People from all over the world, enjoying Okinawan food in a sleepy village. Surely this was the very realization of Ohshiro's biggest dream.

From outside, the scene was striking: the bright colors of eighteen different national flags, flapping together in the evening wind. People from across the globe, all together now in this remote corner. People speaking English, French, Spanish, Chinese. It was a festival of international culture. What on earth had been the attraction? What sense of obligation had prompted all these people to spend such time and money getting to a place like this? It may well seem strange. But what did the residents of Ohshiro's old village see that night?

I was entranced by the sight of the villagers dancing Okinawan folk dance under the flags of the world and the voices of those Eisa dancers echoing across the night. I felt as if I were in a dream; surely this is what it means to quench the thirst for global success.

Above is an excerpt from the book Quenching the Thirst for Global Success, the Success Story of Hironari Ohshiro.

It is filled with incredible lessons, motivational stories and the actions that were taken to create Enagic.

A must for distributors, it is available at www.enagic.com/shop

Congratulations to each of you for your outstanding achievement!

In addition to providing Enagic Distributors with information and resources to help them succeed, the Executive E-Newsletter will also serve as a way for us to recognize the outstanding achievements and rank advancements of our valued Independent Distributors. While we would like to be able to recognize each person who has advanced in rank by name, the sheer volume of new distributors advancing in rank makes it impossible. Instead, we will recognize each person that advances to the rank of 6A and above by name in this section of the newsletter. We are extremely grateful and very proud of the achievement of each person listed below and we encourage every distributor to work hard to achieve the rank of 6A and above so that your name may be proudly displayed with those that are moving up the ranks in the Enagic business.
